

The Heligoland Naval Engagement.

Bexhillian Dangerously Wounded.

Mr. Albert Edmunds Sellens, A.B., of H.M.S. Laurel, son of Mr. A. Sellens, until lately of Cornwall Road, the well-known carrier, has been dangerously wounded in the recent operations at Heligoland. He is now at Chatham and is progressing towards recovery.

Mr. Sellens was on board the torpedo boat H.M.S. "Laurel", had been home six weeks on leave when called up on account of the war, and promptly obeyed the call. He had served for twelve years previously to the outbreak of war, and hopes, as we all hope, that he will be able to return to the Front.
